High schoolers can’t hit ‘snooze’

Early start times are counter to teens’ biological needs.

To survive the 6:30 a.m. start time at Edwardsville High, Alicia Terry started drinking coffee her freshmen year. Matt Ney’s beverage of choice to stay awake at Parkway North was a daily Monster energy drink.

“That was worst thing I could have done, but it was absolutely necessary,” said Ney, who had to arrive an hour before the 7:25 a.m. bell to be involved in water polo and singing groups. “It was either that or fall asleep in class.

When high schoolers head back to school this week, they’ll also return to a daily schedule set up to steal hundreds of hours of their sleep during the year, and

‘GENTLE GIANT’ WAS READY FOR NEW LIFE, FRIENDS SAY

Michael Brown posted a haunting message on Facebook last week as he prepared to enter a new phase in his life: college.

“If I leave this earth today, at least you’ll know I cared about others more than I cared about my damn self,” Brown, 18, wrote to a friend.

Brown was killed Saturday afternoon after a Ferguson police officer shot him multiple times outside an apartment complex.

Ferguson • A day of protests and night-finding for an unarmed black teenager who was shot to death by a Ferguson police officer sparked national outrage with confrontations, looting and panics.

Authorities said that a police officer shot an unarmed black teenager Saturday after the teen attacked the Ferguson police that pressure for a deeper explanation grew locally and nationally throughout the day.

A man jumps through a broken window with bottles of wine in his hands as the QuikTrip is looted Sunday. The situation in Ferguson grew more tense as some who had gathered to protest the death of Michael Brown began looting and attacking police officers.
